

Dear Friends of Community Resources for Children,

Happy Fourth of July!

Warm summer days are here to stay and at CRC we take this time to prepare for new programs and fall events. We wrapped up the school year for big and small with completion ceremonies and a Family Meal Night for the participants of our Active Minds program. Child care providers who completed professional development classes were recognized and received certificates. Also in June, thanks to the generosity of di Rosa and Bank of Marin, many of our families attended Creativity Jam. Stay tuned for exciting new programs and events coming this Fall at CRC!

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHT

CONGRATULATIONS CHILD CARE PROVIDERS!!

More than 37 child care providers participated in professional development workshops this year and combined they received over 460 hours of training. These trainings include CPR classes, licensing orientations, and special workshops led by instructors from the UC Davis Center for Human Services and the Family Child Care at it's Best Program...READ MORE.

CHILDRENS ACTIVITY CORNER

BEAT THE HEAT WITH ICE!

There are so many different sensory and science activities you can do with ice.

Place some small toys in cups, fill with water and freeze, then have the children guess what's inside and let them excavate the small toys. Or just experiment with the ice: place ice cubes on a cookie sheet outside and have the children observe what happens. Ask open ended questions. What do you think is happening? Why are the ice cubes melting?
